

LOS ANGELES PUBLIC LIBRARY
Literature/Fiction Department

and the

Ensemble
Studio
Theatre

LA

present
FIRST LOOK/FULL LENGTHS 2007/A New Play Reading

F.U.B.A.R.

by Karl Gajdusek

Directed by Larissa Kokernot

Mary and David, living amidst the boxes her abused mother left behind, unpack the small San Francisco apartment while outside, people actualize like crazy. When Mary herself is the victim of an unprovoked act of violence, it leads the two of them down different paths of addiction and realization, one to the violence itself, one to the abuse of cat tranquilizers. Meanwhile, Richard is a benevolent drug dealer working on his new book while Sylvia wants to use the internet to double her life. Four people trying to recognize the people they have become in a time that's totally F.U.B.A.R.

7 p.m., Monday, January 29, 2007

Central Library's Mark Taper Auditorium, 630 W. Fifth Street., Downtown Los Angeles

Admission is free. First come, first served. No reservations required.
For more information, please contact Helene Mochedlover at (213) 228-7331.

Closest garage is 524 Flower ST. $7 maximum after 4 p.m. or street parking.
For more parking information, visit library website, www.lapl.org

ADA accommodations available upon request.